Dear Mr. and Mrs. Greeley:

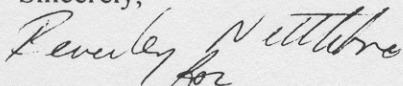

The following is information which I am able to give you concerning Jennifer and her adoptive family. The law states that we may provide only non-identifying information. That includes information which if combined with other pieces of information could be identifying. Therefore some of your questions remain unanswered.

The following statements are in the order in which you asked the questions.

- Jennifer's adoptive mother did not return to work.
- Jennifer's adoptive parents owned their houses. Both were in the suburbs of Toronto.
- To our knowledge, Jennifer's adoptive father did not graduate from university. He completed Grade 13 at 16. He worked for a few years in one company and moved to another company where he remained in a middle management position. It was at the first company that he met Jennifer's adoptive mother.
- Jennifer's family were regular churchgoers. They were Anglican.
- Jennifer's adoptive mother's parents were in their late fifties when Jennifer was adopted. They were described as strict by Jennifer's adoptive mother although she and her mother were close. Her father was a blue collar worker. Her mother did not work. They lived in Toronto.
- The social worker did not provide any further information about Jennifer's physical appearance.

I look forward to your updated information which I will place immediately in Jennifer's file.

Sincerely,

Shelagh Hewitt Kareda
